Conference on generating Awareness to Coastal Communities

Concept note

Indian Sundarban plays a pivotal role in balancing natural habitats like flora/fauna and act as a bio-shield to different coastal hazards. But this unique natural gift is in peril due to various anthropogenic activities like man-animal conflict, unlawful & causeless deforestation by forest dwellers, excessive use of chemical fertilizer by local farmers, seasonal migration in search of better income leaving their own local natural resources unattended, waste dumping by tourists to name a few. In addition to this, natural hazards like cyclone, erosion, inundation, thunderbolt etc. have collectively been damaging the spine of this internationally acclaimed ecological hotspot. These all collectively have left a deep impact on the socio-economic canvas of Sundarban area.

Objectives

Lack of awareness of local inhabitants is responsible for these burning issues. Rural youths, female counter part of financially poor families and farmers need to be sensitised properly on disaster management, snakebite and waste management.

In the wake of above, initiative of organising a 2 days' conference has been taken to troubleshooting few major issues in Sundarban area as mentioned below:

- Major thrusts and vulnerabilities of Sundarban Estuary and Mitigation Measure
- Snakebite awareness, breaking of social myths and basic first aid
- Solid waste management
- Organic farming

Target group

School students, barefoot farmers, female members of self-help group

Expected number of participants: 60

Outcome

- Generating awareness among local inhabitants on climate change issues
- Knowledge co-creation
- Thought share and information exchange
